It's not mentioned in the comic, but after that one phone call, you're pretty much cut off from the rest of the world until graduation. You have to lock up your camera, watch and cell phone with your personal belongings for 3 months. That meant no photos, phones or internet access till you graduate. The only method of communication is through snail mail.

So, for those of you addicted to your smartphones, it's gonna suck. Bad.

Instead of writing letters during boot camp, I kept a journal to capture all the crazy things that happened in my platoon. Which is why you get to see funny stuff here. :)

NOTE: "Slash dojinshi" is a dangerous phrase to google — definitely NSFW. You have been warned. (^^;
